Two weeks ago our Congregation posed for a photo holding signs to appeal for the war in Palestine to cease. An email with the attached video from Palestine Israel Ecumenical Network (PIEN) has arrived. St Martin's is one of two congregations in WA to respond.

Whether you're financially struggling or not, we regret to advise, that Orange Sky will now start on the 9th October.

Sausage sizzle and cuppa while you wait

We had hoped to have a Newsletter full of pictures of the Orange Sky Van, some visitors along with the volunteers enjoying the sausage sizzle while washing was being done. But, unfortunately it was not to be. Orange Sky had a safety issue with the door of the van and had to cancel. The big launch day will now be next Thursday.

Containers for Change. The total this financial year is $91.50. Both the environment and Uniting WA thanks you. Cans, cartons and bottles gratefully received.

A reflection on Luke 17: 5-10 What is faith? The question is raised by the interaction between Jesus and the Disciples, in this short excerpt from Luke's Gospel (17: 5-10). The disciples ask Jesus to increase their faith; Jesus, instead of responding with action, speaks back to them with a characteristic parabolic saying, about "faith the size of a mustard seed" The mustard seed was allegedly (but not actually) the smallest of all seeds. The point still remains just a little faith has such power contained within it.
